Silliker Global Certification Services receives SQF
Certification Body of the Year 2010 Award

Blackburn, 27th August, 2010

Silliker Global Certification Services (SGCS) receives “SQF Certification Body of the Year 2010 Award” during the combined HACCP and SQF conference award dinner in Melbourne.

The SQF award is an acknowledgement of certification bodies from around the globe. The award reinforces Silliker's position as the No 1 SQF Certification Body in the United States and the second largest SQF Certification Body in the world. It is a true testament and recognition to the SGCS team that was formed three years ago, starting from a clean slate against well established competing certification bodies to being awarded the SQF global award this year.

In accepting the award Mike Wallace, Director of Silliker Global Certification Services, made special mention of his small but dedicated local certification team of Kym Pratt, Sara Crouch and Suzanne Worthington and US counterparts Rena Pierami and her US team and, reinforced that without them and the Silliker global network of auditors, the achievement would not have been possible.
